Re: Arriola v. QT Globe, Inc.
Case No. 1:11 cv 07949 (LBS) (AJP)

Dear Judge Peck:

We represent Plaintiff, Louis Arriola. We write with Defendant's consent to inform your Honor that the parties reached a settlement on May 25, 2012. Shortly thereafter, Defendant began making periodic payments as provided in the settlement agreement. Although the parties have exchanged executed copies of the settlement agreement as well as a stipulation of voluntary dismissal with prejudice, Defendant has not yet provided a notarized confession of judgment, which secures the deferred payments under the settlement agreement. Defendant has indicated that the notarized confession of judgment will be supplied as soon as Defendant's President, Eric Ramos, returns from Europe.

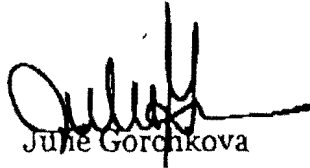

As discussed with Your Honor this afternoon, the Court will enter an order today dismissing the case with prejudice and granting Plaintiff the right to reinstate this action within thirty (30) days in the event the confession of judgment is not received.

Thank you for Your Honor's continued attention to this matter. We apologize for neglecting to inform the Court of the foregoing developments sooner. If Your Honor has any questions, please contact me.
